Forest, Orchard, Landscape, Garden, and Us with Consulting Arborist, Ecological Landscape Designer, and Gardening Expert C. Darren Butler.

Since 2005, as a teacher, speaker, designer, and consultant, Darren Butler has been at the forefront of the movement in Southern California toward ecologically sane stewardship of our landscapes, gardens, and trees. In this special presentation he will cover a broad range of ideas and topics with interrelated scientific, philosophical, practical, and spiritual approaches to growing food, solving plant and tree problems, developing living soil, and managing everyday problems with our plants and landscapes using ecofriendly methods. Lecture to be followed by questions and open discussion.
